

ABSTRACT

Zosym V.O. Institutional problems of innovative development in Ukraine

Master's thesis in specialty 8.03010101 - Sociology.

The thesis deals with the problem of innovative development in the light of social institutions. In this paper on base of available research world and Ukrainian researchers conducted a theoretical analysis of approaches to defining the essence of innovation processes, and solved the basic problem of institutional innovation development in Ukraine. The necessity to find a solution them for successful and sustainable innovation. The study of work experience the innovation park made it possible to identify the main shortcomings and difficulties introduced innovative projects. Based on the results of the study were obtained conclusions about the prospects and opportunities of innovative development of Ukraine and ways to create an enabling institutional environment for that process.